

I tell you what, it's so great being here at the Beiju Theater. It is so nice. Last night I was in uh Louisville, Kentucky at a bar. Yeah, they were drunk.

And I said I said, "Are you drinking?" And they said, "Yes." And I said, "Just drink till I'm pretty."

And a guy in the front row stood up and said, "I should have started in July."

And I think it was you, Mr.

Well, how you doing, Skater?

Welcome to the show. Big Friday night out.

Taking your girl out on the town.

said, "Honey, get ready. I'm wearing my camouflage hat tonight."

Did you marry me?

Woo! We got some big hair going on back here.

My goodness, Skater. That's like an eight-point buck over there.

Tatunka, is there like a bleach convention in Knoxville? Because there is a lot of blonde women in here.

Well, I have very exciting news. I won best dressed in Kentucky today.

There's some ugly women in Kentucky. (Beaumont)

Now, tell you something, girls. You weigh 300 lb in Kentucky. (Beaumont) You are cheerleader material. All right.

Do we have any people from Kentucky?

Oh, good. Cuz I'm going to need a ride home after the show. Well, it's good to be back in the South.

I've been out of the country for a while. I was in Los Angeles.

It's good to be home. You know, the people out in California aren't like southerners. They're not nice. I mean, we're nice to each other. We say, "Hey, wave at strangers on the street." Oh, they'll wave at you.

I was working on a on a TV show out there and one night the producer took the whole cast to um a Hollywood party and there's lots of famous people there and stuff and nobody was really talking to me, you know.

Shut up.

So I just I'm just standing off in the corner over by the dip and not dip.

He's getting all excited. That's giving out free skull.

Them Hollywood people know how to party, don't they? Calm down.

I standing over by dip. A woman started walking towards me and apparently she's some famous actress and I didn't know who she was, but her name's Angelina Jolie. Do you know who this woman is?

Well, I didn't know who she was. And if you don't know anything about this Angelina Jolie, she got big, huge, swelled up lips.

No, she got big lips now.

And I was just trying to make conversation, you know, and I said, "Dang, woman, what the heck happened to you? You getting a bar fight or something?

You allergic to bees?

She said, "No, I just had my lips done." Do you know what that means?

Yeah, the big hairs, they know what that means, don't you? Yes, you do. She said, now I ain't making this up.

Back me up. She said that a doctor sucked fat out of her butt and injected it into her lips.

What is the matter with LA women?

She said I wanted to have Michelle Fifer lips. I said you got Mc Jagger lips and what you got]

She goes, "Well, I don't expect you to understand. You're from the South." I said, "Woman, I'm about to teach you how to pluck a chicken."

I stood up for the South. You bet I did. You dang right I did.

I got right back in her face. I said, "Yes, ma'am. I am from the South." In fact, I'm from the great state of Kentucky and we're all better than you.

I'm better than you. I've been on Jerry Springer twice and seen three UFOs.
